MEMENTO MORI

by Eir Linnea Glimsdal, Håkon Nygård and Sandra Nguyen

/məˈmentəʊ ˈmɔːri/:

a reminder of mortality

During the short time we have on earth, we make constant choices that shape the direction of our lives. When our lives end, the people who come after us will continue our paths into the future.

Memento Mori seeks to reveal the journey of life through short stories; how choices may have minor or significant consequences in life and how other things are out of your control. We invite you to explore the paths of people who have existed before you, and create a life story of your own while leaving a mark.
